PATEL APPLICATION

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 A system for processing transaction data and payment data is provided. The system includes a front-end system that receives transaction data from one or more merchants, such as an employee identifier. A back-end system receives payment data from one or more payment systems, such as fraud data. A reporting system that is connected to the front-end 10 system and the back-end system correlates the transaction data the payment data, such as to show employee identifier data and fraud data in a single record.
